Did you know...

During the early 1970s, Gordon P. Ratcliff, a transplant from the United Kingdom, began acquiring options to land that eventually became The Plantation at Leesburg. He began looking for a partner and eventually found the H. Smith Richardson Family Trust, manager of the vast Vicks VapoRub fortune! They continued to buy options, and in 1985, Ratcliff, acting as Lakewood Development Co., exercised his options. The first residents, Tom and Lillian Linton, closed on their home at 6 Bellevue in Pine Hill on October 24, 1986, just one day after the signature fountain was installed. In April, 1988, Ratcliff retired from the partnership. (Source: The Plantation - Then and Now, 2009, by T. William Swinford)
